CVM SPOTLIGHT ON 1993

by Neil Hansen

AC Comics is celebrating their tenth year of producing color comics by resurrecting The Scarlett Scorpion, Commando D, Astron, and Paragon from their respective comic book graves.

Paragon will be the first to return to the AC Universe with Paragon:Dark Apocalypse. Paragon has lost his rank of Captain, having been abandoned by his own country, when he willingly sacrificed his omnipotence in hopes of better serving the peoples of Earth; the Black Commando, a government hero gone bad, battles Paragon in this four issue mini-series. The storyline crosses over into Femforce #59 when Miss Victory battles Paragon.

Archie Comics has major plans for their Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles titles this spring, timed to coincide with the release of the third Turtles movie.

The Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles III movie adaptation will appear in both newsstand and prestige format, and will feature a time travel story wherein the Turtles help defend a Shogun castle under siege in ancient Japan. The adaptation will be done by Dean Clarrain, Chris Allan and Brian Thomas.

March 1993 reveals the origin of Splinter in TMNT #45, by Phil Nutman and Ken Mitchroney. This book is intended as an indirect tie-in to the movie.

Peripherally involved with the Turtles, a new version of Mutanimals debuts in May, based on an upcoming animated series.

Continuum's top title, The Dark, will be going monthly as of March (having recently signed a newsstand deal), with a new release of The Dark #1, featuring new lettering and a new cover by Joe Jusko.

According to publisher Joseph Naftali all the previous Dark books will be re-distributed, with all-new stories starting in July with issue #5.

Continuum will also publish a new two part mini-series called Laughter. These books will come out in June and July, with George Perez covers. Naftali said of the book's title, "The sound of death has been heard and it is ...Laughter."

The Mighty Mites #3 features all the Mites dying, in a parody of violence in comics, but they all return to life in #4.

Caliber is undergoing some major expansions on its four comic lines- Caliber Press, Gauntlet Comics, Tome Press, and Iconografix.

From Caliber Press expect all new monthly versions of Deadworld and Realm. Realm will be shipping in April, accompanied by a special edition Realm Handbook. Horror fans can look forward to Worlds of H.P. Lovecraft; each issue will be a short story adaptation drawn by a different artist. Other horror/occult tales include Young Dracula (a 48 page 3 part mini-series), The Mane (a one-shot tale of African vampires), Sirens (a look into the Voodoo world of New Orleans), and Sinergy. Sinergy explores one man's descent into Hell, and will have 20 different artists offering their renderings of various levels of Hell.

Young Dracula©1992 Caliber Press

Later on in the year Caliber will offer Eden Descendants, a re-issue of Kilroy is Here (with covers by Kaluta and Bolland), and Without A Mask (covers by Mike Dringenberg).

Gauntlet releases its first full color title in January, UN Force - this book is intended to be the foundation of the Gauntlet universe. It will feature over 25 heroes in a peacekeeping force formed by the United Nations, and will have a spin-off series (debuting in spring) called UN Force File. This book will focus on individual characters in short stories. Paradigm will also tie-in to UN Force, incorporating the character TEKQ.

Gauntlet will also be working with Megaton Comics, releasing Berzerker, featuring cover and art by Angel Medina–with pin-ups by Megaton alumni Medina, Rob Liefeld and Eric Larson.

Tome Press will be doing mostly adaptations. Early in 1993 look for adaptations of three Jack London short stories in Law of Life, Rudyard Kipling's The Man Who Would Be King, and Fyodor

Dostoefsky's The Honest Thief.

Iconografix, known for alternative and offbeat titles, will feature comics by women, for women. Leading the Iconografix line will be Darcy Megan S. with her series Meatcake, Heather McAdams with a collection of Cartoon Girl in March, and Jana Christy with Very Vicky.

Predator©1992 Dark Horse Comics

Dark Horse Comics will be riding high in 1993 by not only expanding their Aliens, Predators, and Star Wars universes but adding many new, original, products to their line. From Aliens, expect Aliens:Colonial Marines–written by Chris Warner (artist on Batman and Predator), and drawn by Tony Akins and Paul Guinan (Aliens). This twelve issue series, debuting in February, will reveal that the Alien creatures are indeed organized.

In February, the Predator becomes involved in a story regarding extraterrestrial killings in a Federal prison. The four issue series is written by Randy Stradley (creative director for Dark Horse) and Andrew Vacchs (Hard Looks); drawn by Jordan Raskin and Bob Wiacek.

The Predator battles the Aliens, again, in a new series called Aliens Vs.Predator. This Chris Claremont work is due in July.

Speaking of alien types, Dark Horse will publish another Thing From Another World mini-series, written by Dave DeVries and drawn by Paul Gulacy.

Dark Horse also continues their popular version of the Star Wars saga in a new series called Tales of the Jedi, slated for a May release. "They are short stories in the Star Wars timeline," said Stradley. "For the most part the characters appearing will be ones other than Luke, Han and Leia."

James Bond continues his Dark Horse adventures in James Bond: Silent Armageddon, a virtual reality and artificial intelligence story, with top British artist John Burns (Danielle, Judge Dredd) handling the drawing chores.

1993 will see the premiere of Dark Horse's new Universal Monsters line featuring Dracula, Frankenstein, The Mummy, The Wolfman and The Creature From The Black Lagoon. "We'll do 48 page adaptation of the original movies," said Stradley, "and then spin the characters into new series."

Dark Horse jumps into the superhero fray with Propellerman. This hero of the future flies through the air with a jet propelled board, anxious to tackle street crime. Despite the semi-ludicrous title, this will be a "straight" book, created and written by European artist Matthias Schultheiss. "It's science fiction superhero stuff, with beautiful art," Stradley commented.

Finally, Dark Horse's other creator-owned books for 1993 are Vince Giarrano's Red Blade, Eudaemon by Nelson, and Rascals In Silk by James Silki. Dark Horse also promises a big surprise for '93, that cannot be announced at this time. Watch our regular Future Picks section for information on this ringer.

DC's Patti Jeres, manager in charge of market publications, says " The key words for DC in 1993 are change from within. Look for more solid editorial direction and support on the on-going titles."

But the big news is- Superman is coming back in Adventures of Superman #500 in April 1993. "The Superman event," warned Jeres, "Will just be a prequel. The story will not be resolved in one issue."

The Man of Steel isn't the only hero who's having an anniversary–a celebration is in the works for Batman #500.

Lobo will finally receive an ongoing series following the upcoming Lobo:Portrait of a Victim; the working title is Lobo PG-13. Also, Judge Dredd's John Wagner is creating an as yet untitled "guns 'n' guts" series, with art by Dave Johnson and John Dell.

Speaking of Judge Dredd, DC is currently negotiating details with Fleetway for new Dredd stories for the American market. In addition, the classic Mad magazine is moving to DC's editorial control.

DC continues to cut the edge with their new Vertigo line. In January, Death, Sandman's big sister, appears in the much heralded Death: The High Cost of Living, by Neil Gaimen, Chris Bachalo and Mark Buckingham. Also due in January is Enigma, the world's first existential super hero, by Peter Milligan and Duncan Fegrado. This is followed in February by Sandman Mystery Theatre, featuring Wesley Dodds (the Golden Age crimebuster) in psychological melodramas; and Mercy, a one-shot about an ethereal being who passes through millions of lives, by J. M. DeMatteis and Paul Johnson. Kid Eternity and Black Orchid are slated to follow.

Meanwhile, Milestone Comics launches their titles in February. The focus is an adventure line composed of multinational superheroes who live in the fictional city of Dakota. African-American heroes will be written, drawn and edited by African-Americans.

"Basically," said Milestone editor-in-chief Dwayne McDuffie, "we're all guys who wanted to do characters like this. You can realize how upsetting it would be if we let someone else control our characters."

The first four titles are: Blood Syndicate, Hardware, Icon, and Static.

Written by Ivan Velez, Jr., and drawn by Trevor Von Eden, Blood Syndicate is composed of a group of teenage urban outcasts with superpowers who are forced to band together and battle not only outside forces, but each other. Milestone believes this to be its most controversial book.

Hardware is about a man with battle armor who is dedicated to battling the corporation which financed his education, when he finds that his former mentor is corrupt. This series is written by McDuffie, and drawn by Denys Cowan.

Icon is an alien who landed on Earth in the deep South in 1839, during the days of slavery; and who survives still marooned in the present as a successful lawyer, Augustus Freeman IV. A young street girl, Rocket, meets him and inspires him to become the superhero Icon. The series, written by McDuffie, and pencilled by Mark Bright, will deal with issues relating to race and class.

Static presents the adventure of Virgil Hawkins, an awkward teenager who is secretly the flashy superheroic Static. Unfortunately, superpowers don't solve Virgil's problems. Static is written by Robert Washington; drawn by John Leon.

"We've got plans for a couple of more books in this universe," said McDuffie. "We have to make a foundation for this universe. There are no plans for crossovers with the DC universe."

All the Milestone Comics are distributed through DC, but are not owned by them. The first issues will appear in both newsstand and direct sales editions. The direct sales editions will contain prototype Skybox trading cards.

Returning to the DC universe, new titles coming from them include: Legionnaires, a new group of teenage superheroes spinning off from Legion of Super-Heroes, by Tom and Mary Bierbaum, Chris Sprouse and Karl Story; Modesty Blaise, the British comic strip heroine with the emphasis on espionage, in her American comic book debut by creator Peter O'Donnell, and artist Dick Giordano; Danger Trail, featuring government agent King Farraday by Len Wein, Carmine Infantino and Frank McLaughlin; The Superman Gallery, a pin-up book with work by Todd McFarlane, Frank Miller, Neal Adams, and many others; and a Supergirl/Team Luthor one-shot by Roger Stein, Louise Simonson, Denis Rodier, June Brigman, and others.

Eclipse plans to premiere Downside in February, a 208 page graphic novel about a future Britain where conservatism rules and poverty, class violence, and heavy police presence abounds (written by Dave McNamara and drawn by Peter Ketley).

True Crime Comics is a one shot offering arriving in January and exploring the crimes of Aileen Wuornos (female serial killer)and mob boss John Gotti; The book will be scripted by Valerie Jones, Jenny Proctor and David Johnson, with art by Dan Spiegle and Mark Miraglia.

"We're going to adapt Peter Atkins first novel, Morning Star," said Eclipse editor Valerie Jones. "Peter will probably write the adaptation himself." Eclipse will also continue to adapt Clive Barker (Rawhead Rex & Age of Desire), and plans to publish Clive Barker Illustrator II, Pandemonium, as well as Barker's latest novel The Thief of Always.

"We have a good relationship with Clive," said Jones, "We usually know about the book he's working on when it is only in the idea stage. Clive always comes to us first."

Eclipse is expanding their trading card line to include: AIDS Awareness cards, James Bond movie cards, and political, social, and environmental issue cards. Also planned is a set of cards

WARNING: YOUR COMIC BOOKS ARE SLOWLY DYING!

Exposure to the air, causes comic books to turn brown as the lignins (tree glues) in the paper begin to release acids that eat away at the paper fibers.

Comic books were never intended to be preserved! They are printed on cheap paper made of acidic groundwood pulp.

Exposure to warmth and humidity, causes comic books to eventually crumble into dust as the aluminum sulphate molecules in the paper split, making the paper fragile.

Exposure to light (especially the U.V. light of sunlight and flourescents) causes comic books to fade and become yellow and brittle as the paper becomes oxidized.

Exposure to dirt, dust, air pollution, fungi, vermin, and insects will cause...well, need we say more?

Exposure to storage supplies that contain acids and harmful chemicals will give you zip in the way of protection and will only speed up the destruction of your collection!

AND...AS IF ALL THESE NATURAL DISASTERS AREN'T BAD ENOUGH...

THEY LIED TO YOU ABOUT POLY BAGS AND CARDBOARD BOXES!

DON'T LET THESE MAN-MADE DISASTERS NEAR YOUR COMIC BOOKS!!!

AVOID POLY BAGS Polyethylene and polypropylene both contain chemical solvents and additives that will contaminate your comic books!

AVOID CARDBOARD BOXES Especially, if you see the words: "acid-free-at-time-of-manufacture"...RUN FOR THE HILLS! It means they have a temporary spray coating that wears off fast, causing them to leach acid into your comic books !

regarding cults. "It will raise some eyebrows," said Jones.

Emphasizing diversity with their products, Jones explained, "I think what we'd like to do is to remain as eclectic as possible. We want to supply all the oddball things. (And) We are still working on original material for 1993."

Harvey Comics, home of Casper, Richie Rich, and Little Dot is trying their hand at superhero comics for the first time since the 1960's.

Japan's most famous live action superhero Ultraman will kick off the new Harvey action line-up. Beginning as a three part mini-series Ultraman is written by Dwayne McDuffie and drawn by Ernie Colon.

"We're very excited about the product," said Sid Jacobson, Harvey Comics editor-in-chief.

The timeline of the story picks up, according to Jacobson, "after the story being shown on TV these days. It's a continuation of it, with an origin story."

Ultraman #1 will be polybagged with an Ultraman mutant monster trading card.

Sparkplug!©1992 Heroic Publishing

Heroic Publishing's big news for 1993 is the incorporation of fan favorite Derrick Gross' Reiki Warriors into the Heroic universe. According to a Heroic press release, the word "Reiki" means healers, and each of the Reiki Warriors is young person with a special talent, trained in martial arts by a mysterious teacher known as the Sifu.

The Reiki Warriors will make their entrance into the Heroic Universe with an eight part series dated March-May 1993. All issues will be polybagged, with card (by Gross). Heroic will also add a Murcielaga She-Bat book in July to alternate with a new Reiki Warriors title.

Also new from Heroic is a new Sparkplug title in January, and a new Mr. Fixxit (Howard Bender and Craig Boldman's cult hero) due in April.

Image will break off from Malibu Comics completely, in March of 1993. All works previously announced will be published as planned (including Tribes and Wildstar), with no anticipation of late issues.

Youngblood Strike File©1992 Rob Liefeld

"Nothing's missed a beat," said Rob Liefeld (Youngblood, and original Image staffer), "It's running smooth."

Image's breakup with Mirage was an equitable one. Malibu had provided Image with initial marketing plans and the opportunity to experiment.

"We hooked up with Malibu to propel us off the ground," Liefeld said, "When we wanted to edit ourselves, we formed Image."

"Malibu handled solicitations and advertising," added Liefeld, "The marketing was key in the first year; we knew the first year we could make mistakes."

Image plans to double its output in 1993 with additional titles, and creating numerous spinoffs from their existing comics. Image also plans to release toys and movies in the future. Watch for an Image feature in CVM #80.

Innovation jumps into the ultra-violence ring with it's new title Mack Bolan: The Executioner. Originally written by Don Pendleton, the same author is writing the comic.

"We've licensed the rights to adapt the first 38 novels," said Dave Campiti, editor in chief for Innovation. "Pendleton will do at least the first four issues, and we were very lucky to get him; he thought it would be a good career move."

"Back in the '60's Mack was a Vietnam vet, who found his family wronged by the Mafia, and wanted vengeance. It is amazing to see how many similarities it has to Marvel's later Punisher," commented Campiti.

Innovation has also licensed the rights to the cult television show Beauty and the Beast, and plan to adapt episodes from the TV show into comic book form. Innovation is expecting a larger than normal female audience for this book.

"The show boasted more than 20 million fans," said marketing assistant Pamela Leiff, "many of them quite vocal,and demanding of more Beauty and the Beast material."

The book, shipping in January, will be shrink wrapped, signed, and numbered with a specially produced bonus poster.

Kitchen Sink has a few new titles planned for 1993, and some specialty items due to be released between April and December 1993.

Dr. Frederick Wertham's Seduction of the Innocent (the book that nearly killed the comics industry in the early 1950's) is being reprinted by Kitchen Sink. The release will contain all of Wertham's original work, annotated by his biographer James Reibwan.

The Sink will also release Trina Robbins A Century of Women Cartoonists; A History of Female Artists. The book will cover, "Pretty much the whole 20th century," said James Riehle, Kitchen Sink sales and marketing director. The book will be released in both paperback and hardbound formats.

Megaton Man will appear in a four issue reprint in paperback . There are no plans to do any new material.

Also planned is a third Cadillacs & Dinosaurs reprint collection, and an assortment of Christmas stories featuring the Spirit in Will Eisner's Christmas Spirit.

The Protectors©1992 Malibu

Star Trek:Deep Space Nine is Malibu's presentation of a new part of the Star Trek saga. Deep Space Nine is a gigantic space station located near a "wormhole" which provides quick tripe to far off worlds, and is also a haven for smugglers, thieves, hookers and rogues. the station is run by Commander Sinclair, a man haunted by his experience with the Borg. Other characters include a female second-in-command, and a shape shifting alien. Crossovers abound with the crew of the Enterprise. Licensed to Malibu, this series promises to explore the darker side of Star Trek.

Gigantor, The Space Age Robot (from Japan) returns to American audiences as a weapon for peace in Eternity Triple Action #1. Gigantor's inventor Dr. Sparks, Jimmy Sparks, Amazon Gazongu and the armored Road Police round out the cast.

Airman, the high flying hero from the Protectors baffles the Clown in his first mini-series, due in January. A protector dies in Protectors #5, and a new character (Shark) is introduced in Airman #1, who will replace the fallen Protector.

The big news from Malibu is the creation of the Malibu Megaverse, in close conjunction with ICM (a Hollywood talent agency), with an eye towards developing properties for movies and TV.

Marvel has big plans for 1993. The major push will be a year long celebration of 30 years of X-Men.

That will begin with a new ongoing Cable series, as Cable gets stuck in the present, and Bridge reforms the Six-Pack. Determined not to let Stryfe, Magneto, Apocalypse (or any other power hungry mutant mongers) take control of the mutants, but unable to stop it himself, Cable must either side with the X-Force or Six-Pack. Fabian Nicienza and Art Thibert hold the creative reins for this March release.

Cable©1992 Marvel Entertainment Group, Inc

Another title to watch out for is the quarterly X-Men Chronicles (writer Scott Lobdell and artist Kerry Gammill). Due out in April, the initial storyline has Cyclops, Storm, and Professor X crashland in Antartica.

Marvel's number one non-mutant has a 14 part crossover in which he tackles his arch foes Venom and Carnage. This spills into all the Spidey titles,(The Amazing Spider-Man, Web of Spider-Man, and Spectacular Spider-Man) as well as the all new quarterly Spider-Man Supersize. The storyline begins, and ends, in the quarterly--with story by Tom Falco and Ron Lim.

Spectacular Spider-Man reaches #200, which will lead to a limited Puma series later in the year.

Spidey's old sparring partner, The Punisher, has a few specials lined up. Punisher: Ghosts of the Innocent sees Fearsome Frank take on His Royal Fatness, the Kingpin, in a January release, by Jim Starlin with art by Tom Grindberg.

The Punisher then teams up with everyone's favorite mutant in Punisher/Wolverine: Damaging Evidence, as the Kingpin kills even more innocent victims, forcing our happy heroes into the fray. Bonus villain Pierce (the former White Bishop) appears in the Carl Potts story, with art by Gary Erskine.

Marvel will also provide a sequel to its best selling Infinity Gauntlet called Infinity Crusade. Warlock recently purged himself of all good and evil; the evil manifested itself in Magus, while the good manifested itself in the Goddess. The Goddess seeks to spiritually unify the Marvel Universe, thereby engendering many battles between her supporters and her naysayers. Thanos and Mephisto show up and add their two cents. This six issue mini-series, by Milgrom, Starlin and Lim, will cross over into many regular titles.

Speaking of multiple heroes, the Defenders return (sort of) as Dr. Strange leads a new non-team of rotating superheroes called Secret Defenders. Characters that will appear include Ghost Rider, Darkhawk, Spider-Man and various others. With the rotating cast comes rotating creators; Roy Thomas and Andre Coates kick off this title in 1993.

Another old group from the 1970's (actually the 1940's) returns as Golden Age superstars Captain America, Sub-Mariner, the Human Torch, Whizzer, and Miss America revive The Invaders as they battle superheroes who have joined the Nazi. This World War II adventure is brought to you by Roy Thomas, Andre Coates, and Andrew Pepoy.

The Midnight Sons Supersize quarterly brings Marvel's horror/occult heroes together in one anthology. Heroes like Ghost Rider, Dr. Strange, and Morbius will appear, drawn by the likes of Joe Quesada. Marvel's horror push contains such ghoulie goodies as Hellstrom:Prince of Lies, bringing back the former Son of Satan, and Clive Barker's The Harrowers– six heroes who dare to enter Hell to retrieve innocent souls trapped there. Artists slated to illustrate include Simon Bisley, Sam Kieth, and Kelley Jones.

Mys-Tech Wars is the crossover title joining Marvel UK heroes and American heroes in this four issue mini-series versus the evil Mys-Tech. Nick Fury, The X-Men, the Fantastic Four, and X-Force are all slated to guest star.

New Marvel UK projects include: Black Axe, the ultimate mercenary, with an origin shrouded in mystery; Super Soldiers, wherein the British carry on experiments similar to those that created Captain America, the project is aborted, but not before a character named Duke is created; and Wild Thing– a woman gifted with the power to enter the realm of virtual reality, and interact with it.

Stateside, Thunderstrike spins off The Mighty Thor as Eric Masterson uses his Thunder God powers to establish a new super identity. Tom DeFranco, Ron Frenz, and Al Milgrom handle the workload on this new book. Thor himself is taken on a cosmic quest to find the Valkyrie (by Jim Starlin and Bruce Zick) in the regular magazine.

Epic products moving out of the House of Ideas include: Dragon Lines, a futuristic martial arts saga by Peter Quinones, Ron Lim, and Jim Sanders III; Lawdog, the Lone Ranger of the Interdimensional Terminus Highway (which intersects the realities of multiple worlds), by Chuck Dixon and Flint Henry; Midnight Men, Howard Chaykin's vigilantes who prowl the urban nightscape fighting crime; Outcastes, introducing Zak (a halfbreed Earthling/Extraterrestrial) and his uncle Grant, who in winessing an assassination becomes prime suspects, by Mike Vosburg; Spike a hardboiled security contractor sucked into the world of interdimensional intrigue, by Mike Baron and Bill Reinhold; Tor, in an all new saga for Joe Kubert's prehistoric savage; The Trouble With Girls, starring the incredibly handsome cult hero Lester Girls in an all-new tale by Gerald Jones, Will Jacobs, Bret Blevins, and Al Williamson; The Life of Groo, a graphic novel by Sergio Aragonnes and Mark Evanier; and Moebius' Airtight Garage, a four issue series reprinting the Airtight series.

Mirage plans to enlarge their Universe in 1993 with Xenotech, Stupid Heroes, and Dragon Fighters. "They're going to be crossovers," said Deborah Toffoli, publishing director at Mirage, "The books will be distinct, but connected."

Xenotech will be a full color series by Michael Dooney about a high-tech super-powered team, premiering in late spring 1993. Stupid Heroes will chronicle the misadventures of a group of superheroes affected by a mental disorder called "Dementia Dominus". A.C. Farley and Peter Laird are the lunatics who run this particular asylum. The third new superhero team from Mirage is Team

Dragon Fighters, an elite force of "Bioneers" and robots used to provide violent countermeasures against super-humans, appear in a full color series by A.C.Farley.

In addition to the superteams, Dino Island is a two issue action mini-series by Jim Lawson, about a young aviatrix who become stranded on an island populated with dinosaurs and aliens.

Mirage has acquired the rights to publish Usagi Yojimbo, in all new full color adventures by creator Stan Sakai. (Usagi Yojimbo was originally published by Fantagraphics).

Plastron Cafe will be a bi-monthly 32 page black and white anthology featuring the work (Turtle and otherwise) of many different Mirage creators. Also planned for 1993 are a Space Usagi three part mini-series, and (maybe!) a set of Mirage Universe trading cards.

Now Comics is planning some new original series for the coming year, as well as trying some new licensed product. The licensed product includes a mini-series for Now standby Green Hornet in The Green Hornet: Dark Tomorrow. This future tale has the Hornet and Kato on opposite sides of the law.

Speed Racer Visits Ninja High School, and lives to tell about it in this polybagged with holo-card miniseries. Another television spinoff has Mr T. uniting a network of kids against gangs in a title owned by Now.

Now goes in for a bit of the old ultraviolence with Neon Knights, a brutally realistic inner city vigilante tale. And finally, Supercops promises to be a gritty, high tech, action oriented series.

Revolutionary, in addition to their unauthorized biography comics, will be leading off 1993 with a black and white horror anthology called Deepest Dimension.

Shipping in April 1993 talents on the first issue include George Clayton Johnson (co-author of the Logan's Run novel and writer of the Twilight Zone and Star Trek novel series) who had the original concept for the book, Robert Bloch (Psycho) and underground artists Spain Rodriguez and Rick Geary.

"We have plans to do a horror based line," said Jay Allen Sanford, editor at Revolutionary, "We have three other titles planned. One is called Blackwolf, which may spin off into its own series."

About creating their own titles Sanford said this: "We had tried Psychoman, which was written by Todd Loren. We put it on the back burner when he died."

In regards to their unauthorized biographies, future plans include bios of Elvis Presley, Michael Jordan, Van Halen, Mariah Carey and many others.

Topps' big news is that it has signed Jack Kirby (widely known as the King of Comics for co-creating such characters as Captain America, The Incredible Hulk, The X-Men, and others far too numerous to mention) to an exclusive contract.

"The people that we've enlisted are all the old Marvel Bullpen guys," said Gary Goldstein, assistant publisher at Topps, "And he (Kirby) has granted us the rights to use his whole treasure chest of characters."

With nothing "gumming" up the works Kirby created Secret City Saga. The superheroes involved are the sole survivors of an ancient civilization which was destroyed 15,000 years ago. When they are awakened from suspended animation, they fight for the good of modern mankind.

C.V.Mail

Dear Brian,

Picked up the latest copy of your excellent price guide/info guide at my local newsstand and once again you guys are doing an absolutely terrific job of covering the comics market. If I can't find it in C.V.M., it just doesn't need to be found. I also find the regional reports from around the country (and internationally) an excellent idea of what I can expect to be "hot or not" in the immediate future.

Reading through the "menu" of picks in CVM #75, I noticed the blurb about Spidey Special Issue for Unicef "... the issue is available with a coupon from any Marvel November cover dated title, or can be purchased separately from retailers." What?? The way I got the info on this issue, it would be available only by sending a donation of $5.00(or more) to UNICEF. There were to be absolutely no sales from retailers or wholesalers. This does not exclude a dealer from making twenty separate donations, in order to get twenty copies. If Marvel, or any other company, is going to use a charitable organization to promote a limited edition comic, and then sell bulk quantities to the retail market, I will blow the whistle on them so quick they won't know what hit them.

As regards your letters section, I have some answers to questions posed by readers. To Mat Monsaugh and his problem of dealers offering him 30% for his high demand comics; why not offer your dealer 20% commission for him to sell your comics on consignment? Just remember that most dealers will not pay for damages incurred to the product, and disclaim responsibility for fire or theft. Not a bad way to move your comics and still retain most of the value.

To John Myers and his experience with X-Men #1: According to the advertising information released by Marvel to the subscription services this series was to be a regular first issue print run, with the exception of the "E" cover. This cover was to be printed to meet only the number of issues ordered in advance of printing. There was not to be a second printing, or a re releasing of any copies of the prestige, double gatefold $3.95 comic. However, if you are a careful reader of the subscription services catalogs, you will notice Marvel did release the overstock they had printed in excess of the number ordered. Now answer me this. Who deserves an apology on a national network for this fiasco perpetrated by the bigwigs at Marvel? How long is Marvel going to keep the lions share of the market if they keep lying to their customers? I, for one, have dropped many of the Marvel titles I previously subscribed to, and have started purchasing Image and Valiant products. I am only one person, but if enough others follow suit, I can't help but believe Marvel will have to wake up and smell the coffee.

Well, I think I have raised enough questions, and caused enough anguish for the time being. I may step on some toes, but I calls 'em like I sees 'em

A.G.Williams
Kalispell, MT

Dear A.G.,

Whereas I am always leery of the motivation behind seemingly altruistic acts of large corporations, I think this is one case where we may assume the act (the Spidey Special Issue) was a well intentioned one. If Marvel inadvertently left a loophole through which unscrupulous individuals could indeed purchase large quantities of this book for resale, I think it was just an oversight. The idea of being able to purchase the coupon, without purchasing a regular Marvel title, was so the average consumer could make the donation without the added expense of purchasing a comic book with the coupon in it. The perfect way to keep everybody honest in this situation is to never, ever, pay more than five dollars for this book. This way, people trying to turn a profit on the UNICEF issue will not succeed. Anyone who pays more than $5.00 for this book is not contributing more to the UNICEF coffers, they are simply aiding someone who is operating in a dishonest manner.

About your advice to Mr.Moomaugh, regarding consignment, thank you...I wish I had said it first. Are you trying to make me look bad or something? What with Pa laid off at the saw mill I really need this job, but hey–that's not your problem... but just keep making me look bad, pal, and we'll see who has a problem. And besides, Mr.Sneaky Guy, what does A.G. stand for? In all seriousness, that was fine advice, and Matt would do well to heed your words of wisdom.

You raise some serious allegations regarding Marvel's X-Scam. All too true, I'm afraid. Just another thing to keep in mind the next time we dig into our pockets at Ye Olde Comicks Shoppe; the best way we can show our displeasure is with our buying power. If we continue to let companies get away with this sort of thing, we've got no one but ourselves to blame.

John Hughes, Thompson OH

Hello Brian,

Recently, while reading through some critics bombardment of the newly successful Image Comics Group for apparently ripping off Marvel by producing physically similar characters, I was taken back many years ago...to a time when the same type of people made comparisons between Captain America and Superman. They compared Captain America & Bucky to Batman & Robin, and even got as silly as comparing the Hulk to Frankenstein, and yet, in time, all these characters made their own mark and ultimately took their place in comic history. Come on all you critics, let these guys breathe a little, we will all benefit from it in time. Thanks for the soapbox.

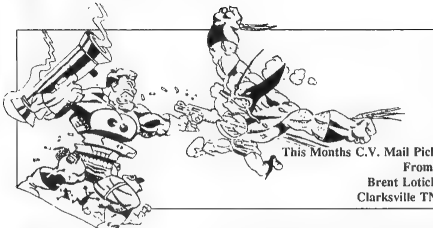
Agreeable Brian



This Months C.V. Mail Pick From Brent Lotich Clarksville TN

Dear Brian,

I bought a comic book at a swap meet for $1.50. It was a Ghost Rider #2, 1st series. On the front of it, it has a guy with a cowboy hat, mask, and cape. He rides a horse. Then I saw, in your magazine, a cover of Ghost Rider #3,-1st series, and it shows him on a motorcycle with his head on fire, as usual.

I was wondering if my comic is a different Ghost Rider, or something else, and if you know how much it is worth.

Jim Westfall
Benton WA.

Dear Jim,

You're right, he's a different Ghost Rider, and his head doesn't light up (unless he gets a really good idea). The Ghost Rider you're talking about was a cowboy type who had his own book from February to November of 1967. Your particular issue is worth $12.00. He also appeared in Western Gunfighters, starting in 1970. The earliest appearance I could find of a horsey Ghost Rider was in Miracle Comics, from Hillman Periodicals in 1940, "Bill Colt the Ghost Rider" worth $350.00. There are also several other Golden Age Ghost Riders (in A-1 Comics, Best of the West, Black Phanom, Red Mask, Great Western, Tim Holt, and Bobby Benson), as well as the modern Ghost Rider who first appeared in 1972, Marvel Spotlight #5, worth $110.00. This all proves Mr. Thunderhorse's point about how everything old becomes new again, doesn't it?

Buckaroo Brian

Dear Brian,

I strongly doubt that the "whole comic industry will go" when Superman goes. And I hardly think that Superman's death is "the beginning of the end for the comics industry." These statements, made by L. Zilbermints of NJ (in CVMail #77), are a bit extreme, as well as laughable.

Almost everyone knows the death won't be permanent. I'm sort of hoping for a completely different Superman. He needs a change. Currently, he's too dull. Plain. After 1000+ issues and numerous guest spots, what else can be done. Where else can Superman be taken? It's way past time for changes, and a new direction. Here's what I'd like to see:

1. A new costume – it's time Superman started wearing his underwear on the inside like everybody else. Dump the cape. Most of the time it gets in the way, or it's shredded, or burned. And red boots with a yellow belt was fine in the disco crazed seventies, but not the 1990's.
2. Get rid of his alter ego, Clark Kent. How much of a clueless schmo do you have to be not to be able to make the connection? If I took off my glasses, slicked back my hair, and donned a cape, I'm pretty sure my friends would still be able to recognize me. Besides, how many time can you use, "Hmmm, Superman and Clark never seem to be in the same place at the same time." Or, "Gee Clark, you always get the best Superman stories." Or, I arrived so fast because my best friend Superman flew me here."
3. A new attitude– what makes Deathstroke and Wolverine so popular? Violence. They're not above eliminating an enemy. They know they can kick butt, and they let it be known. DC needs to discard his boy scout image. Did anyone read Adventures of Superman #464, where Lobo beats the crap out of him? His brains over brawn solution may be a better way to solve problems, but it doesn't sell.

This isn't "blasphemy", or a "sacrilege of the most holy shrine in Superherodom." What it is, is a smart and logical step for DC comics to make.

I hope L. Zilbermints was trying to be humorous or sarcastic when he made those statements, because if not, he or she really sounds like a fool.

Robert Andres
Elk Grove CA

Dear Robert,

I think that whatever DC does with Superman will be an improvement. The character was created for the 1930's, and he was fine for back then, but he's hopelessly outdated now. DC has a golden opportunity to re-invent this character. My personal hope is that they go absolutely nuts, showing no restraint, and come up with some completely crazy ideas. If they don't, it's almost not worth all the fuss.

As regards your comments referring to L. Zilbermints letter (CVMail #76) I don't think Lev sounds like a fool; I think he sounds like someone passionately expressing an opinion, much like you do. Of course, he gets a little carried away but that's great! The whole idea behind this letters page is to foster intelligent discussions about topics that concern comic collectors, and letters like Lev's help get the ball rolling.

Topps will build its foundation with three one shots: Bombast, plotted by Roy Thomas (Dracula), dialogued by Gary Friedrich(Ghost Rider), and illustrated by Dick Ayers(Shield) and John Severin (Incredible Hulk); Night Glider plotted by Thomas, scripted by Gerry Conway (Punisher) with art by Don Heck (Iron Man); and Captain Glory by Thomas and Steve Ditko (Spider-Man). These three April one shots will lead up to Secret City Saga in May, which will be an ongoing series by Thomas and Ditko.

The same month will see the debut of Kirby's Satan's Six, a supernatural title by Tony Isabella and newcomer John Cleary.

Topps will be releasing Dracula-Vlad The Impaler in February, by Roy Thomas and Esteban Maroto. This book is a prequel to the Coppola Dracula movie.

Topps is also entering the science fiction realm with Ray Bradbury Comics, from Byron Preiss. "The Ray Bradbury Chronicles were discontinued by Bantam," said Goldstein, " Byron thought it was to his advantage to release his comic through us."

The debut issue is due in February, and will be an all-dinosaur issue with two versions of Bradbury's Sound and Thunder, one a reprint of the EC classic by Al Williamson, the other a brand new rendering by Richard Corben.

In June Topps publishes their adaptation of Stephen Spielberg's film of Michael Creighton's Jurassic Park, an amusement park with modern day dinosaurs.

The big surprise here is that all of the Topps comic books will contain trading cards. Other cards due out in '93 by Topps include: Batman: The Animated Series in March: The Star Wars Galaxy, a commemorative set celebrating Star Wars with new art bt Jim Steranko and Walt Simonson (among others); Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles Cards III; and Nicktoons, featuring Ren and Stimpy, due in February.

Tundra is heating through the permafrost with some hot projects planned for 1993. First up is a hero whose body parts each have a separate and distinct persona–one each for the torso, left and right arms, left and right legs, and head. Counter Parts #1 will debut, in black and white, in January.

In March From Inside #1 begins a six part mini-series, from creator John Bergin, about a pregnant woman taking a nostalgic train ride through a depressingly violent environment. Also coming out in March is the new Madman Adventures, which will conclude the new stories. Our hero Madman travels through time, but still hopes to keep his date with his girlfriend. Issues #1 & #2 break the first 64 page adventure into two 32 page books (#1 was released in December), and beginning with #3 the book will be a 48 page quarterly.

Turok©1992 Voyager Communications

Rai/Future Force©1992 Voyager Communications

"There are rumors of a Madman movie," confided Ann Eagan, promotion director for Tundra, " and Robin Williams is supposed to be involved."

In May, Captain Sternn comes back from the dead in a new five issue mini-series by creator Bernie Wrightson.

Tundra is also planning the release of Scott McCloud's 220 page book Understanding Comics. This book will be written in a comic book format.

"It's a really important book, and the way it's geared, anyone can pick it up. He has drawn, for example, how time is shown in comics," enthused Jones.

Finally, James O'Barr's popular hero, The Crow, will appear in a movie beginning shooting in February.

Valiant, the comic book company that has taken the direct sales market by storm, has two major announcements for 1993.

First, Rai and The Future Force #9–although it continues the numbering of the previous Rai, it is Valiant's first attempt at a super team in the Avengers/JLA tradition. The new Rai and other superheroes (Magnus:Robot Fighter, The Eternal Warrior, X-O Commando, Tekla, and Spylocke) of the Valiant Universe join forces to wage war on humanity's foes.

Spinning off from X-O Manowar #14-15 in April is Turok, Dinosaur Hunter #1, as dinosaurs come from the lost land into the present, and Turok must hunt them down.

Warp Graphics is adding a third title to the Elfquest series in late spring 1993–Blood of Ten Chiefs. The 32 page full color book contains adaptations of short stories which appeared in the anthology of the same name (published by TOR Books since 1986). Intended for a bi-monthly release schedule, the creative team on this title includes Sarah Byam (Black Canary), Janine Johnston, and is edited by the elfmeisters themselves–Wendy and Richard Pini.

Warp also plans to continue publishing all three of their Elfquest titles in a hardcover format every 5-6 months.

A Free Elfquest promotional issue is planned for a summer release date. This promo-one shot will be an introduction to the Elfquest Universe distributed free for retailers to give to customers. Warp Graphics is planning a signing tour to celebrate Elfquest's 15th anniversary.

DC I'm writing this on D-day for Superman and guess what! Superman titles are flying out of the door. The public bit and old Supes is selling the way Spider-Man #1 did two and a half years ago Congrats to DC for injecting new life into the series. Also Robin III just hit and is doing well despite the gimmicky moving cover. Batman & Star Trek titles still remain strong and Green Lantern is a good read, but DC needs more to maintain interest. What's next guys? Wonder Woman posing with Madonna...Who knows!

MARVEL You've got to give the House of Ideas credit. They don't take things lying down. Between the 2099 titles and glitzy covers on virtually every book, Marvel is moving right along. Biggest problem is the twice-monthly schedule. With the economy still shaky there is just so much money to go around. Marvel has to recognize that, for the time being at least, Image and Valiant are not going away. As a result, Punisher, Wolverine and even Spider-Man numbers are down somewhat. X-Titles have held due to X-Cutioner's Song, but watch out afterwards.

INDEPENDENTS Image and Valiant are luring Marvel and DC readers into their folds. Image appeals to kids and Valiant moves well in back stock (what little there is of it). Biggest problems are with keeping new product in stock. Both companies need to improve their advance reorder system.

DC Aside from the monumental Superman Sales rush, most DC titles continue their regular slumps. Notable exceptions include Batman, Robin, Deathstroke and both Titans books. Also, soon to be Vertigo titles are beginning to move Is killing a character the only way DC can increase sales? If DC had given stores the time to make orders for the second and third printings of Superman #75 and the trade paperbacks, we would have been better prepared to serve our customers.

MARVEL Along with X-Cutioner's Song crossover, Marvel also has some non-mutant sellers this month; all 2099, Spirits of Vengeance and Marvel UK (Death's Head II, in particular) are red hot. Special covers make standard titles into eye catching best sellers. Everyone wants their copy of Ren & Stimpy.

INDEPENDENTS If it's Image, it's white hot, but also extremely late. Maybe they should recruit some editors as well. The regular Malibu titles, though, are slow. Dark Horse hits the mark with Dark Empire, RoboCop Vs Terminator and Next Men. Valiant Mania is catching on, with increasing sales in both new titles and back issues. Comic cards of almost every kind make excellent companion sellers for any type of collector.

DC The story of the month, of course, is the Death of Superman. Nobody expected the deluge of publicity; no one had enough copies of either version of Superman #75. Between our eight stores we sent almost 6,000 people away without a copy and limited purchases to one to a customer Other dealers in our area were selling them for $10.00 to $50.00 a copy...the day they came out, while we held at cover price. One of our store managers actually received an unprintable bribe from an over zealous young suburban housewife (he didn't accept it, or so he told me). Of course 5.6 million of the estimated six million copies will go unread by investors. The rarest copy of the Doomsday storyline seems to be Justice League America #69 and $5 or $10 per copy is not out of the question. DC should be able to keep the publicity going all the way to the introduction of the 'new' Superman and, even after all the smoke clears, look for a twenty or thirty percent increase in all Superman related titles, back issues and merchandise, because there is a small percentage of people being reintroduced to reading comic books.

MARVEL Marvel has taken a back seat to DC...period.

INDEPENDENTS Look forward to Ordway and Gordan's Wildstar Sky Zero and Bissette and Moore's 1963 as future products from Image that might actually have reader appeal...to all audiences, even your older readers. These are sleepers.

DC Maybe if they kill Batman I can retire. Superman's death has to be the biggest thing since Spiderman #1. All tie-ins to it have skyrocketed to the point that it does not matter what price you put on it. I could have sold 4,000 more, if I had them. Watch for Vertigo.

MARVEL The best new comic to come will be Venom. With sales on Web of Spiderman #97 & #98, and Spirits of Vengeance #5 & #6 (Spirits of Venom storyline) going crazy – who knows what will become of this under ordered book? X-Cutioner's Song is the best crossover of the year. Sales on this crossover are very strong all the way through. Other hot books from Marvel are Incredible Hulk #400, all 2099 titles, all Marvel UK and Stryfe's Strike File.

INDEPENDENTS We are still having trouble selling all our Valiant titles. Help! All Image coupon books are going through the roof. Biggest dude of the year – Robocop Vs. Terminator.

DC It's a cold winter day, here in Idaho and sales of DC are even colder. Down, down, down seems to be the trend for DC. Robin III has arrived and there is little enthusiasm for it. Even Lobo is lackluster. Star Trek: The Next Generation is holding it's own, but Star Trek is hopeless. The only bright point is the Death of Superman. Advance orders for #75 have been good and customers are wanting the preliminary and aftermath issues.

MARVEL The Spidey titles are still riding high. No matter how many new Spider-Titles are added to Marvel's schedule, the Spiderphiles keep buying them all. In contrast is the Punisher; each new Punisher title takes sales away from the earlier books. War Zone does better than War Journal; War Journal does better than the original Punisher title. Look for high sales, however, on Punisher 2099. I have high hopes for Venom. Ghost Rider and Spirits of Vengeance are selling well. Morbius is disappointing. Ravage 2099 is off to a slow start.

INDEPENDENTS Valiant sits atop the heap. What makes the company so attractive to the retailer is that most Valiant fans buy all of the Valiant titles. We're eagerly awaiting Predator Vs Magnus. Bloodshot will be hot. Image sales are speeding up. Spawn, in particular, is disappearing off the shelf. If people see any Image comics sitting around at cover price, they grab them; whether or not they like the title. Based on advanced orders, Aliens:Colonial Marines will be a good seller.

DC All Superman titles are in big demand! Superman #75 is a sellout! Interest for Superman, because of funeral crossovers will be high through February. We wonder how much of a drop in sales will occur when Superman returns in summer of 1993? I bet you (and betting's legal here in Las Vegas) that there will be a lot of disappointed investors when Superman returns!

MARVEL 2099, 2099, 2099 - Hot Hot Hot Hot!! Spider-Man 2099 and Ravage 2099 are selling off the shelves! Doom 2099, expected next week, is following the rest of the 2099's. Looks like Punisher 2099 (shipping this month) will be the best of the bunch, so far. Sales are brisk in Morbius, Spirits of Vengeance and Nightstalkers. All Death's head titles are selling above average, as well as Pendragon II. Look for Venom to generate high sales dollars ($2.95 cover price and a six issue mini-series). It could be a good book for the long term investor. Future regular monthly title... Venom/Carnage? Shipping in January, watch for strong sales from Secret Defenders #1 with a foil stamped cover. Marvel back issue sales, especially all X-Men titles, are very strong. Amazing Spider-Man #365, containing the first Spider-Man 2099 story, is in big demand.

INDEPENDENTS Harbinger #1 with the coupon is selling here for $100, without the coupon it's only $7! Are people collecting comics or coupons? I guess the writer/artist battle has lost out to the coupon clippers! I would hate to be the person who paid $100 for Harbinger #1 only to find out, that in a year, it will be selling for eight or ten dollars. Image titles have dropped about thirty of forty percent in sales within the last two months.

5. Uncanny X-Men #296	10. Spider-Man 2099 #3	5. Terror, Inc.

DC Of course, you all expected it. Superman #75 has eclipsed all other sales at the at the moment, vanishing from the shelf within the first day. Legends of the Dark Knight has shown an increase in demand. The other movers are the mature readers titles, such as Sandman, Hellblazer and Shade the Changing Man. Robin III's new style of gimmick cover has ensured a good response (read additional comments). Animal Man sales have jumped and the Star Trek graphic novel Debt of Honor is a surprise winner. Star Trek: The Next Generation is a very strong mover, both new releases and back issues. Batman sales have shown no rise or fall, but very significant losers have been Lobo and Congorilla.

MARVEL Major movers are 2099 and X-Cutioner's Song. Other main titles such as Amazing Spider-Man are still hanging in there. Darkhawk is an average seller and after Punisher: War Zone's earlier success, sales have bottomed out. Marvel Masterpiece cards are very popular movers. Other than that, Marvel titles are going through a rough stint. All recent titles, like Cage, Deathlok, Sleepwalker and, to a certain extent, Ghost Rider have had the short end of the stick.

INDEPENDENTS Image titles Spawn and WildC.A.T.s are the hottest movers. Topps Comics' adaptation of Bram Stoker's Dracula is the other best seller. Darkhorse's Grendel:Warchild and Terminator: Endgame, despite the worn out themes, have been their major winners. Dark Empire is nothing but huge! Black and white alternative titles are great movers at the moment. Fabulous Furry Freak Brothers #12 has left a blazing trail and Cerebus has had a revival.

ADDITIONAL COMMENTS The attraction of gimmick covers seems to be wearing thin. There has been a certain increase in original or different covers compared to those gimmicks released in the past year.
